PRICE IS EXCESSIVE FOR POLICE COATS, PRICES ADVANCE CLAIMS COMMITTEE

Change in Method of Awarding Contracts to Be Made by Department.

That members of the Washington police force have paid from their own pockets $9 to $10 more for the same grade of overcoats worn by policemen of other cities is one of the findings of a committee appointed by the Commissioners to inquire into the purchase of uniforms, it was stated. Following the discovery that on February 26, the centract for supplying policemen's uniforms was awarded to a Cincinnati firm without giving other establishments an opportunity to submit bids, a committee was appointed, consisting of Capt. Roger G. Powell, assistant corporation counsel; Daniel J. Donevan, deputy auditor, and Roger G. Whiteford, assistant corporation

Summoned As Witnesses. One fact established is that since 1906

the contract has been awarded by a purchasing committee consisting of the inspectors and captains, all of whom the investigating committee.

The investigating committee, it is understood, is making a careful inquiry into the comparative cost of uniforms furnished the Washington force with those of other cities, and will make a full report

The total amount of the contract for supplying uniforms to the Washington force is approximately $20,000.

Their statement, it was said, was that the material furnished by the contractors had proved satisfactory and was as good as can be obtained in the open market at the same price. as good as can be obtained in the open market at the same price. Request that they be allowed to submit bids were received this year from N. Snellenburg, of Philadelphia; Jacob Reed Sons, of Philadelphia, and Russel Uniform Company, of New York, Beyond a formal acknowledgment, no notice, it was stated, was taken of their letters.

Buy Own Uniforms.

Under the statute policemen must pay for their uniforms. The question having arisen whether in view of this fact, the Commissioners could obligate them to buy by contract from a given firm, the opinion was given in 1899 by the attorney of the District that the Commissioners have no authority to make the award, but that it was in the hands of the major and superintendent. Commissioner Brownlow, who has supervision of the Police Department, does not agree with this opinion, hold-ing that except in cases of emergency. no purchase involving large amounts on public or quasi-public account should be made except in open market, and after the submission of bids.
